UNREST SPREADS TO GERMAN ARMY

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
London, Sept. 7.—Wholesale desertions and mutinies are taking place in the German army, according to reports received at Rotterdam.
One hundred mutineers in a Silesian regiment are said to have been executed and an entire Bavarian division is reported to have been placed in a prison camp following its revolt near the Scarpe river.
It is estimated that there now are 20,000 deserters in Berlin alone.

20,000 CASUALTIES NOT MADE PUBLIC

General Pershing Has Withheld Record of Slightly Wounded to Avoid Confusion—Better System Has Now Been Arranged.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Washington, Sept. 7.—General Pershing has withheld the record of 20,000 slight casualties in the expeditionary forces that occurred up to August 20, General Peyton C. March, chief of staff, told representatives of the press at his semi-weekly conference today. These casualties were withheld under authority vested in the commander-in-chief in the early days of the war, General March said, in announcing plans that have been made by the war department to secure the complete hospital records of all the overseas forces.
In the early days of the war, General March explained, General Pershing asked for authority to withhold casualties of a slight nature. In many instances, the American commander explained, men receiving trivial wounds were back in the line before the records could reach the United States. As a result, relatives of the fighting men have received letters in which the soldier told of being wounded. No notification had been received from the war department and it was natural, General March said, that the home folks should become apprehensive. In many instances, said the chief of staff, there was a difference of opinion between the soldier and the attending physician as to the seriousness of the wound and to straighten out all difficulties, that may have arisen or may arise in the future, the war department has arranged for a courier system between the United States and France. These couriers will leave twice a week and bring with them the complete hospital records of the overseas forces.
The additional casualties will be made public as soon as they are received by the war department, the chief of staff said.

EMPLOYMENT BUREAU TO OPEN IN CITY

United States Employment Service to Open Branch Office in Charge of Local Residents—Appointments Not Announced Yet.

The United States Employment Service will shortly open a branch office in Kingston in charge of local residents of the city. The office will likely be located in the central part of the city later this month.
Charles B. Barnes, state superintendent of employment for New York, has been appointed state superintendent of the federal employment service, and has taken the matter up with President Herbert of the local Chamber of Commerce asking that organization to recommend local residents capable of handling the situation in Ulster county.

It is understood that the local Chamber of Commerce submitted a list of names to Mr. Barnes of people they thought would be able to fill the bill, and it is likely that the appointments will be made from the list submitted.

The office here will be in charge of a chief examiner, who will be a man well acquainted with labor conditions in the city and Ulster county. There will also be a woman examiner to have charge of the women's department.

The aim of the office will be to provide the necessary unskilled workers which are required for government work.

TWO WILSONS HELD IN BOMB PLOT

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Chicago, Sept. 7.—Macley Hoyne, state's attorney, has dropped a bomb of his own into the hunt for the man who placed the federal building death bomb, and hence today there are two Wilsons held as the guilty man. Hoyne, carrying on a separate investigation from that in charge of federal authorities, arrested one Harry Wilson, known to the police as a bomb maker. Federal authorities still hold John W. ("Shorty") Wilson, "Big Bill" Haywood's secretary, as the guilty I. W. W. who did the act.
Meanwhile, the last chapter in the event which is believed to have caused the bombing outrage has been written, and Haywood, the boss of the I. W. W., with the 96 other convicted with him, are today on their way to Leavenworth, to serve the varying terms imposed upon them by Judge K. M. Landis for their anti-war activities. They were taken to their train under heavy guard last night, surrounded by secret, to avoid further demonstration by sympathizers.

WORKERS TO ERECT MEMORIAL TABLET

Friday Night's Meeting Resulted In Formation of Kingston Industrial Workers Ass'n—Memorial at City Hall to Cost About $3,000.

Tentative plans considered at two previous meetings of representatives from the various industrial plants in this city and vicinity were adopted Friday evening at a meeting to erect on the city hall lawn a memorial tablet in honor of the soldiers and sailors from Kingston who take part in the great world's war now raging.

About 50 workers, representing 30 plants, were present at the meeting held in the common council chambers, and reports were made that the employees or workers in twenty other plants were heartily in favor of the proposition. It was voted after the temporary organization had been made a permanent one by electing Thomas P. Kelly, of the Plumbers' Union, president; Augustus Spruck of the New Columbia Shirt Co., secretary, and Edward D. Stock and Mayor Canfield, a financial committee in place of a treasurer. A discussion followed as to naming this organization, different titles being suggested. "The Kingston Industrial Workers' Association" was adopted finally. A tablet of bronze to cost approximately $3,000, similar to design shown, was decided upon, a description of which and a reproduction having been printed in The Freeman Saturday evening, August 31st.

The secretary was authorized to have subscription blanks and other necessary stationery printed, and that the campaign to raise the prescribed amount or more if possible begin the week commencing September 16. Industrial workers are to organize a committee in each plant, elect a chairman to represent such industry at future meetings and report collections. Employees will be allowed to contribute and such contributions credited to the employees. Names of all contributors are to be printed in the city newspapers but no amounts are to be stated, simply the gross amount of each plant.

Those industries not represented are to be requested to get subscriptions in their respective plants, and contributions from all workers will be accepted. Donations from workers in dry goods, grocery stores, butchers and baker shops to be welcomed. The opinion prevailed that the tablet should be a gift to the city in honor of Kingston heroes from the workers.

Before the meeting was called to order by Temporary Chairman Thomas P. Kelly, the pen drawing of the design for the tablet was passed around among the workers attending by Mayor Canfield, who explained the details and the session after the opening continued from 8 until about 10:30 o'clock. The roll call of the plants showed nearly all represented and the committee named at the previous meeting reported that nearly all had been called on the matter explained, promising to give them the favor and that representatives would be sent. Mayor Canfield also reported that leading men of a number of industries had promised to bring the matter before their employees and to aid toward making the plan a success.

There was a discussion as to whether to place the words "Industrial Workers" on the tablet or leaving it simply to read that it was donated by the "Workers" of Kingston.

Delegates wanted to know how much the tablet was going to cost; others thought that a working plan or basis for collections be adopted and time set for beginning the campaign. One delegate suggested the mark be set at $5,000, which another considered too large; that $3,000 was high enough and if $5,000 or more could be raised the better.

Fred Richardson of the U. S. Lacey Mills, favored standing by the original plan of subscriptions from 25 cents to $1. He said he had the seven departments of the lace mills organized, the subscriptions already made and recorded and being copied on a typewriter.

Thomas P. Kelly of the Kingston Shipbuilding Corporation Workers, said there ought not to be a limit. If any worker wanted to give $5 or $10 or ten cents or a quarter, except whatever amount may be offered gratefully.

The spokesmen for the six representatives from the U. S. S. shops suggested a committee be appointed to ascertain and report at the next meeting what the proposed tablet would cost, as to the size, etc., so that the representatives knew what was necessary to raise. "We don't know where we are at."

Mayor Canfield explained as to what he had done to get the design drawn, how the location on the city hall lawn had been taken into consideration so that the face of the tablet could be read from Broadway. He said the cost would vary according to whether it was made of wood or bronze metal, also as to the character of the design, the lettering, etc., and explained several details.

Finally a motion was carried that a table to cost approximately $3,000 be ordered. As before stated, the week of September 16th was selected for beginning the collecting campaign among the workers and the secretary authorized to get blanks printed to distribute among the representatives of the workers at the next meeting, to be held at the city hall Friday evening, September 12, all workers to be included.
On motion of George W. Moore, of team, W. S. Car Shops.

TROLLEY CO. AND MEN IN DEADLOCK

Consolidated Street Railway Ready to Refer Question of Increased Wages to War Labor Board.

That the danger of a street railway strike is not by any means passed as the Consolidated street railway company's employees had reason to hope for Friday afternoon.

Their attorney, A. J. Cook, informed the 34 car employees through their representative, Dick Murphy that Superintendent G. B. TeBow would not concede another penny.
But that was not the worst. The superintendent had withdrawn the offer he had made on the part of the company. He told Mr. Cook that the company's offer of 38 cents an hour is "now withdrawn."

Serious Change in Men's Position.
If the company stands in that position it throws negotiations between the men and their employers back to where they started when three weeks ago, the car employees, then getting thirty-two cents an hour, first put in their demand for forty cents an hour. It's a serious loss in the position of the men in this controversy. Superintendent TeBow at the first demand had after communicating with the company offered the men 36 cents. Then the men, refusing the offer, employed A. J. Cook.

Every Vote Against 36 Cents.
Mr. TeBow's offer of 36 cents had been taken up at a regular meeting and unanimously rejected. Every one of the 34 were there and voted. They agreed that they could get other jobs at 40 cents. They figured out that the company would soon be getting 6 cents fare; and one of their speakers showed them figures purporting to prove that if the six cents fare is granted to the company, the boys could be paid 40 cents.

Six Cents Profit of $1,400.00.
He said the company would in fact be the gainer by $1,400 a month over and above what they would pay out to car employees, and that they are only a few employees outside of those on the cars who would be benefited.

Having voted not to accept 36 cents advance and voting affirmatively on the separate question of standing firm for 40 cents, the street car men carried the result of the meeting to Supt. TeBow.

Offer of 38 Cents Made.
On Thursday of this week the superintendent brought as many of the men together as were in the car house on Broadway and made a little speech to the effect that the company had only the best interests of the men at heart.

He was pleased to say to the boys that he believed the company magnates might be induced to go up to 38 cents an hour.

"You had better accept 38 cents, boys," one of those present quotes the superintendent as saying. "The company does not fear going with this question to the War Labor Board. We know the board will act with fairness to both sides. Let us compromise. Take the hand we hold out to you. Accept 38 cents."

Attorney Tells Them Not to Strike.
Again the men rejected the company's offer, this time a better offer 38 cents; and appealed to A. J. Cook. Again he advised them in no case to strike.
"It is only the matter of accepting the company's offer," he said to the men "or going before the war labor board at Washington."

Friday evening the men received the company's third reply.
38 Cents Offer Withdrawn.
Superintendent TeBow says that the company has no objection to going before the war labor board and permitting them to determine the pay the boys shall receive. In fact he advised that course; and that the question may be submitted without prejudice one way or the other, he said to Mr. Cook. "It will be better for the company to withdraw his offer to the men."

The employees are determined in their demand. The men's attorney is strongly advising them not to strike (and he has a high standing with the men) pointing out that in view of their rejection of 38 cents either they may not have the sympathy of the public with them. So it is that the wage question will be submitted to the war labor board.

ALL BREWERIES CLOSE ON DEC. 1

Decree Making Bars Beerless Has Full Approval of President—Is Purely a War Measure.

The bars of the nation will be beerless next year regardless of whether the war-time prohibition measure, passed by the senate Friday as part of the agricultural stimulation bill, becomes a law.

An order, which has the full approval of President Wilson, went out Friday night from the food administration closing all breweries in the country on December 1. Warning that the production of beer substitutes and other soft drinks and spring waters is also to be materially curtailed was given with the announcement that the brewing was to be stopped and the breweries shut down for the period of the war.

SKIP-STOPS HERE BEING CONSIDERED

Other Cities Have Adopted Plan Suggested by Federal Authorities to Conserve Electricity by Eliminating Trolley Car Stops.

Other cities throughout the state have adopted the skip-stop plan of operating trolley cars and it is understood that the matter will shortly be considered in Kingston.

Under the skip-stop plan trolley cars do not stop at every street corner as in the past but will make a certain number of specified stops, or about eight stops to a mile. Certain street corners will be selected and adopted as the points at which a trolley car will stop to take on or discharge passengers and no stops will be made between these points.

By this skip-stop method or plan it is said that there will be a considerable saving of coal and electricity. It is likely that the local trolley company before adopting any plan will take the matter up with the city authorities when a definite plan will be adopted and certain street corners selected for the trolley cars to make the stops to receive or discharge passengers.

COAL PRICES HAVE ADVANCED 30 CENTS

There is a Shortage in the Supply But County Fuel Administrator Van Eiten Believes There Will Be No Famine If Waste Is Eliminated.

The first of the month there was another advance of thirty cents a ton in the price of coal delivered in Kingston, and this advance was general throughout the country. Last April coal dropped 30 cents a ton with the understanding that the first of September it would be advanced. In the interval coal advanced in price, due to the fact that when the government took over the railroads it advanced the freight rates, and of course the advance was handed on to the consumer.

It is hoped that there will be no further advance in the price of coal, but what the future holds forth no one knows. Coal prices today for coal delivered are as follows: Egg, $8.75; stove size, $8.95; chestnut, size, $9.05; and pea size, $7.40.

This thirty cent advance affects the consumer whether he already had his order placed for coal or not, as all orders were accepted on the following conditions: "All deliveries subject to coal available, and at the dealer's price ruling date of delivery. Terms cash."

Those who were fortunate enough to have their orders at least partly filled caught the thirty cent jump in price.

Judge Van Eiten, the county fuel administrator, stated today that there was a shortage in the coal supply, but that Kingston and Ulster counties would have enough coal to carry them through the winter if the coal was used judiciously, and all waste eliminated.

YANKS MAY STRIKE SOON IN FRANCE

March, in Weekly Review, Says 93 Per Cent of Men Now Directly Under Pershing—Airplane Situation Better.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Washington, Sept. 7.—More than 1,200 De Havilland planes have been delivered to date, and of these more than 500 have been shipped abroad, General Peyton C. March, chief of staff, told members of the senate military affairs committee at their weekly conference with him today.

The chief of staff referred especially to the work of the Fisher Body Company, which has reached practically a quantity production basis.

Heretofore this company, General March said, had been delivering on an average of four planes a week. Last week they delivered 100, this number being included in the total figures for deliveries which General March furnished the committee.

Concentration of the American troops in France is being speedily effected, members of the committee were told. They said General March asserted that the latest figures received from abroad showed that 93 per cent of our men "over there" are now directly under the command of General Pershing. This, in the opinion of the senators who attended the conference, indicated an extensive action by the Americans in the not far distant future.

General March did not disclose whether, in his opinion, this concentration forecast a thrust against the Germans by the Americans, independent of their allies, or whether the Americans would be used as a mobile reserve.

Troop shipments, members of the committee were told, had been continued during the past month at the same rate as during the summer. General March gave no definite figures as to the overseas shipments, however, senators said.

Entertainment at Sahler's.

The entertainment given Friday evening at Sahler's Sanitarium was one of the best of the season. Miss Clara Gay started the ball rolling with a series of patriotic pantomimes representing Liberty Bell, Soldier Boy, His Mother and Sweetheart, Red Cross Nurse, Sailor Boy, Peace Prosperity, Progress, etc. The Misses Marjorie and Dorothy Page of Merchantville, N. J., rendered several piano, vocal and mandolin numbers which were greatly applauded and appreciated by all. Charles Whitaker and Mr. Russell delighted the audience with several piano solos. Earl C. Mattle, of Syracuse, N. Y., who has assisted Miss Mildred French Page many times this summer in Port Jervis entertainments, added very much to the evening's amusement. First Mr. Mattle gave with Miss M. F. Page a sketch entitled "Confessions" by Conan Doyle. They portrayed a married couple of three months discussing their experiences in past love affairs. Mr. Mattle also gave a very dramatic Italian monologue which was encored several times. The program was brought to a close with a short parody on "To Hell With the Kaiser."

Summing Up Life.

Think on this doctrine—that reasoning beings were created for one another's sake; that to be perfect is a branch of justice; and that men sin without intending it.—Meditations.

VAN'S GARAGE

TRIBUTE TO GEORGE SCHIRICK

In memory of George Frederick Schirick, the first of Kingston's young soldiers to die in action.

"Whether on the scaffold or in the battle's van,

The noblest place for man to die is where he dies for man."

Schirick, thou son of liberty

We who are old and may not in the battle strive,

With mingled pride and grief Lay on thy foreign grave a funeral wreath.

Firstling of our flock to die,

We will remember thee, not with tears as children

Vainly weep, but with exultation, As one who shed his blood for murdered innocents

And outraged womanhood.

Thou thou art dead the spirit That sustained thee is immortal,

It lives And throbs in every generous heart.

God grant its fervid glow may lead us on,

Like thee, to do our part.

Accept, if rude and simple verse,

May mark a patriot's grave, this epitaph

He lived at Kingston but in blood-stained France

Laid down his life for our inheritance.

ALAN MACKENZIE

There will be a memorial service for Mr. Schirick at the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer Sunday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

GOES FAR BACK IN HISTORY

French City of Montdidier Was of Importance in First Millennium of the Christian Era.

The National Geographic society issues the following war geography bulletin on Montdidier, a few miles east of Amiens:

"This little town, whose history dates back to the first millennium of the Christian era, had a population of less than 5,000 at the beginning of the war, but it was rich in historic associations. It is said to have derived its name from the fact that Didier or Desiderius, the last of the Lombard kings, was imprisoned here in 774 by Charlemagne. It will be remembered that Charlemagne, having put aside his first wife, Desiderius' daughter, took up the quarrel of Pope Adrian I with the Lombard monarch, and after marching an army across the Alps, captured the erstwhile father-in-law's capital city, Ticinum, and took the vanquished ruler back to France, where he died in captivity.

"Montdidier is attractively situated on an eminence on the banks of the river Don. It is the capital of an arrondissement in the department of the Somme, and is 62 miles north of Paris by rail, and 23 miles southeast of Amiens. Its chief industries before the war were tanneries and the manufacture of zinc-white.

"When the tides of war finally recede it is probable that the three buildings in which the citizens of Montdidier took the greatest pride will be crumbling ruins. These are the church of St. Pierre, which was built before Columbus set sail on his voyage of discovery, and which contains a tomb and font of the eleventh century; the church of St. Sepulchre, a fifteenth century edifice, and the Palais de Justice, formerly the city castle. In the last named building visitors before the war were shown six unusually handsome Brussels tapestries of the seventeenth century. These were undoubtedly removed before the Germans entered the city.

"Montdidier's most famous son was Parmentier, the scientist, who gave impetus to the culture of the potato in France. A statue erected here commemorates his gift to the nation.

"For a number of years this little city was governed by its own lords, then passed under the dominion of the counts of Crepy and Valois. In the twelfth century it became a possession of the French crown and received a charter of liberties. In 1086 it offered a gallant and successful resistance to the Spanish invaders."

Introduced Himself.

Grandma was out walking with her small grandson when a large dog came running along the walk. The little boy started to pet the dog when grandma warned him not to, saying that he was strange to the dog and might get hurt. At that the little fellow walked over to the dog, made a bow, and said: "Hi, Ford Bradley. Now you know me, don't you?"

Fifty Dollars for Newfoundland.

Henry VII was so pleased with the discovery of Newfoundland, the first colony added to the crown, that he presented him with a $50 note. Mr. H. Hall of the Navy league allied to this circumstance at a meeting of the Society of Engineers at Burlington House. The first effort to colonize for the British empire, he said, was made in 1500.

Primitive Methods of Farming.

In Central America many primitive agricultural implements are still retained. The native farmer will use a plow with a crooked tree-branch pointed with iron. The objection to the modern two-handled plow is that one hand is needed for guiding the animal, hence the introduction into Honduras of a trial modern-style plow with one handle.

Spamatic Sermon.

A man's character is determined by what he does—his reputation by what he gets caught at.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, Sept. 7.—Trading on the stock exchange at the opening today was fairly active, although many members were absent on account of the Jewish holiday. The tone was mainly strong with the most interest attached to Steel common, which moved up 1/2 to 11 1/2 in the first fifteen minutes. The copper stocks showed fractional gains and a number of specialties were higher. Baldwin was 1/2 higher at 92 1/2 and Industrial Alcohol showed the same amount of gain at 180. The railroad stocks were lower with the exception of St. Paul, which moved up 1/4 to 54 1/4. Union Pacific was 1/2 lower at 124 1/2 and Reading was off 1/2 at 90.

The stock market was firm in the late dealings although there was some slight reaction near the close. Steel common, after selling up to 11 1/2, was finally 11 1/2 and Baldwin closed at 92. Anaconda was finally 68, and Marine pfd. 61 1/2. St. Paul, after selling to 54 1/4, rose to 55, and New Haven closed at 44 1/2. Union Pacific closed at 125 and Reading at 89 1/2.

The market closed firm; government bonds unchanged; railway and other bonds steady.

BIRCHER SCOUT EXECUTIVE.
His Versatility Results in Permanent Appointment.

Last evening an important meeting of the Kingston Council of the Boy Scouts of America was held to consider the appointment of a permanent Scout executive. Herbert Bircher having acted as temporary executive since the absence of Scout Executive Soles. There were several candidates for the position, but Mr. Bircher was unanimously chosen as permanent executive, having already proven himself especially well fitted for the task.

In spite of war conditions, some of which have greatly militated against Scout work this summer, Mr. Bircher made a very real success of the camp on the Ecopus creek, and later inaugurated and helped to train the Scout Drum Corps, which, considering its very short period of practice is already a pronounced success. The organization has never been in a more live condition than at present, and according to applications received, some new troops will be formed in a very short time.

Mr. Bircher, who was formerly of Middletown, was president of the Men's Bible Class of the First Baptist Church, of which he was a member, and also president of the Middletown Fellowship (debating) Society.

He has always been very actively identified with the athletics of the community in which he lived, being formerly connected with Madison Cavalier of West 65th street, New York city, physical culture expert.

He was captain of the Baraca Basketball team and also captain of the "Middletown Five," one of the fastest teams in Orange county.

Himself an expert boxer and all around athlete, he has had considerable experience as coach and trainer of some of the well known athletes of the country. By profession Mr. Bircher is a superintendent of construction, and was at one time district manager for the International Correspondence School of Scranton.

It is therefore plain from the foregoing that Mr. Bircher is both a versatile and exceedingly energetic man, and having four little folks of his own, he has the welfare of young people at heart in an unusual degree. The local council has been fortunate in securing such a man as its new executive.

LIFE IN GERMAN PRISON CAMPS

Whims of Commanding Officers Seem to Govern Treatment of Prisoners Which is Uniformly Barbarous.

For three and one-half years I was a prisoner in a German prison camp. At the end of that time I was fortunate enough to escape. Although I am a Russian, the peace of Brest-Litovsk did not give me my freedom. Like the enemy subjects who were in the same camp, I had to wait my chance to make a perilous dash for liberty.

Although much has already been written in the press of all countries about the treatment of war prisoners in Germany, nevertheless I believe that I have had experiences which are, to a certain extent, unique and worth relating. The camp in which I was confined is Camp Holzminde, on the Weser. At this place a great number of civilians, who have in no way participated in the war, are held captive. It is not a camp for military prisoners; it is a camp for enemy civilians.

The regime at Holzminde was fairly mild until the beginning of 1917. But when General Haehnisch, a barbarous old despot, was named general of the 10th Army Corps, to which district Holzminde belongs, the camp conditions were utterly changed at once. In the place of the former commanding officer, General Pflugradt, who had treated the prisoners with decency and a certain amount of consideration, Colonel Gallus was appointed, a half crazy individual, with years of experience as a prison director. With the help of a group of his underlings, more ruthless than himself, the colonel very soon succeeded in establishing a German prison regime at Holzminde.

Heaviest Work Required.

This regime involved forcing the prisoners to do the heaviest sort of labor. Every day they were required to break up and haul stone, build roads, and work in the fields. The road building was at a distance of from five to six kilometers from the camp. Work in the factories of Holzminde was also looked upon as a camp duty. Because of the fact that the prisoners were for the most part students, engineers, merchants, and so on, who were unused to physical labor of this sort, the tasks were particularly onerous. Furthermore, the guards were instructed to keep nagging at the prisoners constantly, to make them work faster.

The manner of these guards is quite indescribable. They received from the colonel himself orders of the most outrageous sort. To speed the work of the prisoners, they were told to strike them with their fists and with clubs. At the most trivial offense they were instructed to shoot. If a guard was so rash as to be friendly with one of the captives, he was severely punished. To make the guards more zealous in their work, Colonel Gallus informed them that all of the civilians incarcerated at Holzminde were pirates and criminals, deserving of the most violent treatment. The result is inevitable. There were almost daily cases of physical mistreatment while I was at Holzminde. Some of the poor fellows were so badly handled that they had to be taken to the hospital.

A Dreary Day.

The day's program was a dreary one. At 4:30 we were awakened; that is, at 4:30 by German summer time, which is in reality at 5:30. At 5 we went to work. Often we could not return to the barracks at noon because we were working in a place several kilometers from the camp, and we were obliged to remain out-of-doors in the wet and the rain until 1:30 in the evening. At 3 p. m. when it was still light, we were locked up in the barracks. We had not sufficient time for sleep, rest, or even for meals.

In spite of the constant activity demanded of the prisoners, the food was poor and contained little nourishment. We did have a sort of commissary committee, composed of three prisoners. But it is for a single time mentioned to complain of the soup as "unsatisfactory." The most disagreeable thing always happened, that I was frequently told up, by way of retaliation for alleged misdeeds. I was not allowed to be kept beyond eight days and if a postcard order than that was found upon the person of a prisoner he was rigorously punished. There was not enough clothing to make one comfortable. As we had to work out of doors regardless of weather or season, our clothing was often wet through, and the next morning we had to put it on while it was still damp. Colds were naturally unavoidable. The medical attention given us was absurd. The crazy colonel himself made a point of being present at almost all medical examinations, and completely dominated the physicians, who cringed before him. He was fond of saying that only the lazy ones pretended to be ill, that the camp itself was the best sanatorium, and hard work the best care-all.

The Colonel Was Sentimental.

In spite of his brutality, the colonel had his sentimental streaks. The following anecdote is illustrative. A Frenchman, 70 years of age, was occupied in paving the street to the camp. The colonel passed by, and as the old fellow did not seem to him to be working diligently enough, he stepped up and gave him a tremendous box on the ear. The poor old man said nothing, but took out of his pocket a little certificate, from which it appeared that he was ill and only capable of a small amount of work. The colonel was much moved, almost to the point of tears. He gave the old man eight days of exemption from all labor. But that was rather cold comfort.

Camp Holzminde was frequently visited by General Haehnisch and other officials. However, they never looked at the prisoner's quarters, except in the most perfunctory way. They merely strutted through the barracks, watched the laborers at work, and then directed all their attention to the camp pigs. These pigs, the special interest of Colonel Gallus, were royally treated in their pens, and certainly led a much happier life than the prisoners, until they were slaughtered for the officers' mess.

Even the women are not spared. Lately conditions have become still worse. I am told, the women are now forced to do all sorts of burdensome things. For instance, they are put at branding and unbranding fish nets, and the only purpose of the taskmasters seems to be to make their fingers sore. Every Sunday a weird walk is undertaken, to a wood about six kilometers away, from which they bring back wood on their backs. Hundreds of men and women are put at this work every Sunday, although it could easily be done by a wagon and two horses. In fact, the biggest part of the labor demanded of the prisoners is almost wholly unproductive, and serves no purpose save to torture. If any of them dare to complain, they are subjected to certain peculiar punishments, of which the most frequent is confinement in an extraordinary cell called the "bug room," a place filled with old straw mat-resses and sacks, which simply swarm with vermin and lice.

Murder of a French Lad.

For some unknown reason, there had been no shootings in Camp Holzminde when I last heard. In a nearby camp at Binerbach, I well remember of the shooting of an eighteen-year-old French lad, in the summer of 1917. Because he for an instant stopped work, his guard, a stupid, half insane fellow, pointed his weapon at him and fired. The whole garrison was highly incensed by the killing. But when the general was told of it, he came to see the guard, slapped him on the shoulder, and said: "You did your duty!" Shortly afterward, the guard received a promotion.

Among the prisoners, none were more badly treated than the group of young Russian students, of which I was one. Their moral and physical sufferings were many to be depicted. For four years they have been shut out of the world. Their priceless, splendid years of youth have flown by. Joy, health, strength, and education have been denied to them. The war relief organizations would undertake a great and wonderful work of brotherhood if they could obtain the release of these wholly innocent war captives, by putting the matter before the proper authorities.

TO DO THEIR BIT.

Two Kingston Women to do Red Cross War Work.

Miss Agnes M. V. Lee and Miss Helen Farrell, both registered trained nurses and graduates of the Kingston City Hospital, left this afternoon for the United States Army Hospital at Richmond, Virginia, to do Red Cross war work. They volunteered some time ago. The many friends of the young women wish them success in their patriotic work.
